

All About Learning Is Awarded NAC Accreditation!

Congratulations for choosing an Accredited center for your child's care and education! Yes, we have received word from the National Commission for Early Care and Education Programs that All About Learning, Inc. Has been awarded Accreditation recognition.

As you are aware, this comes after extensive self-study, an on-site observation by an independent early care and education professional, and consideration by a national commission.

NAC Accreditation recognizes excellence in the care and education of young children. You, as a parent, can be assured that our program meets standards that exceed the minimum necessary for licensing. And, children have an environment that is conducive to their individual growth and development.

As we enjoy this achievement, let us continue to work together, encouraging one another in our roles as teachers and parents of children at All About Learning, Inc.
